

Proclamation

by

Steven L. Beshear

Governor

of the

Commonwealth of Kentucky

To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come:

WHEREAS, Technology plays a leading role in leveling the playing field for economic opportunity and growth for the citizens of the Commonwealth; and

WHEREAS, Increasing participation by Kentucky citizens, businesses, government, and nonprofits in the adoption of broadband and technology resources has a direct impact on the state's economy and the quality of life of its citizens; and

WHEREAS, Kentucky is leading the nation in broadband expansion with broadband access reaching 95 percent of Kentucky households; and

WHEREAS, Through programs like ConnectKentucky, accelerating the growth of broadband technology access and adoption is ensuring that Kentucky remains the place of choice to live, work and raise a family;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, STEVEN L. BESHEAR, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do hereby proclaim February 24, 2009, as in Kentucky and commend this occasion to all.

DONE AT THE CAPITOL, in the City of Frankfort this 18th day of February, in the year of Our Lord Two Thousand Nine and in the 217th year of the Commonwealth.
